

Strategy	Example	Purpose
Question	Why not an academician make a test? - Personal question I took this from Paragraph 5, sentence 2	This helped me have a deeper understanding of what type of intelligence he has. Without annotating, I wouldn't be able to infer this.
Main point/Key point	Different types of intelligence I took this from paragraph 5, sentence 5	the first sentence states "What is intelligence, anyway". This example makes the sentence more complicated, which gives me evidence that this question is hard to answer.
Paraphrase	You do not become smart from education I took this from paragraph 7, sentence 7	this helped me understand the sentence in a better way and simpler way. therefore this made more sense of how it relates to the essay. As a reader paraphrasing made it go from difficult to basic for understanding.
Best Example		This made me consider that this is a sentence that I should review and keep in mind to

good explanation
5/5

Annotation
Expanded my thinking at what 'intelligence' a person has.

Question

"my intelligence, then, is not absolute but is a function of the society I live in and of the fact that a small subsection of that society has managed to posit itself on the rest of us as an arbiter of such matters" Is this what intelligence means?

The reason I asked this question is because it makes me think or question about what the author is saying and also about what I think about what he ~~started~~ started about intelligence? Society b/c of the question. This will give me a better understanding of the context.

identifying words you don't understand.

"Well, then suppose my auto-repair man devised questions for an intelligence tests." definition: Hes coming up w/ complex questions.

To better understand the sentence I needed to know the definition of devised. Knowing this helps me know that the man is coming up w/ his own questions, This will help me understand the sentence, which in this case, rephrasing this sentence will help me understand the following sentence after this one.

5/5

and that the questions are going to be based on what the auto-repair man knows.

OK

3/5

how does paraphrasing help you as a reader

this is the paraphrasing itself

Type	Example	Purpose
paraphrase	"In a world where I could not use my academic training just + verbal talents but had to do something hard, working w/ my hands, I'd do poorly."	he is saying that there isn't just one way to be smart. Some people are smart with some things, while others are not observe	"Consider my auto repair man, again."	he keeps referring back to his auto repair man to show the different types of intelligence ask questions	"Because you're so... educated, doc. I knew you couldn't be very smart."	what does he mean when he said that he was so educated. the knew he couldn't be smart?
paraphrase	he put 2 fingers together on the counter + made hammering motions w/ the other hand... "he used his voice"	by saying this, he is referring to different ways people are able to communicate with each other. (hands, voice, eyes, etc.)
identify words you don't understand	oracle	something important that had been said.

Type	Example	Purpose
Annotation Strategy Used	Example of that Strategy	Effect that Strategy Should Have on You as a Reader-- Metacognitively
Question on side	Personal question "Does educated mean smart?"	So many of us are educated, but how many of us are smart?
Comment Comment on side	Statement: He (Asimov) is not omniscient.	Asimov is educated, and is, according to himself, highly intelligent. But even he says that he does not know everything. Can a human learn/know everything?

This question questions the meaning of the word 'educated'. I note the fact that people who are educated think that they are smart. are they?

Highlighting Observation

Question: Does a blind man communicate the same way that a deaf-and-dumb man does?

This appears to be a simple question with a simple answer. But the educated person does not think about the question and immediately gives his answer.

Explain the process of annotation in your head here
3.5
5

So your response